

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, March 27. 1708.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated March 27.

Warsaw, March 7.

THE Marquis de Bonac, Envoy of France, is daily expected here from Dunkirk. We have Advice, that the Army of the Muscovites are retir'd behind their Lines between Polosko and Smolensko, and seem determin'd to stand the Swedes there: In the mean time the King of Sweden is advancing against them by the Way of Minsk: King Stanislaus is a great Way behind him, with the Body of Polish and other Troops that are under his Command; and they write from Wilna the 4th of this Month, where that Prince was then arriv'd accompany'd by divers Senators of his Party, that he was very uneasy because the King of Sweden was got to so great a Distance from him; and that pursuant to the Resolutions of a Council of War, he dispatch'd the Palatine of Minsk to his Swedish Majesty, to make a Representation on that Subject. M. Oginski Starost of Somogitia, and the Palatine of Trok, are gone with their Troops to joyn the Army of the Crown. The Muscovites pillag'd and laid Waste the Country in their Retreat, and left it bare behind them, that the Swedes might find no Subsistence; and some report, that 'tis to fatigue the Swedes the more that they draw them to the Frontiers of Muscovy, hoping to gain Advantage over them when they come to Action after so tirefom a March. The last Letters from the Swedish Army advise, that an Envoy from the King of Prussia was arriv'd there, with a Commission to offer his Mediation of a Peace between his Swedish Majesty and the Czar of Muscovy. They write from the Polish Prussia, that M. Smigielski had seiz'd and carry'd off Prince Lubomirski from a Castle near Thorn; but that 'twas suspected to be done by Collusion, and that the Prince has a Mind to embrace the Party of King Stanislaus.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated March 30.

Riga, March 11. Yesterday came hither a Courier, with Letters from the King of Sweden to General Leuwenhaupt, advising, that the 2d of this Month his Swedish Majesty with his Cavalry arriv'd at Bordoloz within 12 Miles of Polosko; and would halt there 3 or 4 Days, to wait the coming up of his Infantry and Artillery; designing then to advance with his whole Army towards the Muscovites, who had posted their Army in a Camp strongly intrench'd not far from Mohilow; but it may be suppos'd will abandon it on the Approach of the Swedes, and retire as they have done hitherto. By Order of his Swedish Majesty General Leuwenhaupt will march to Morrow with a Body of 24000 Men, 20 Pieces of Cannon, and a great Quantity of Meal and Forrage; to lay Siege to Narva, or according to the more general Opinion to joyn the grand Army.

Plymouth, March 23. Yesterday arriv'd the Europe of and for Rotterdam, Anthony Varena Master, from Curassau, with Sugar, Cacao, Tobacco, and Indigo, carrying 28 Guns. On the 20th in the Evening off Scilly she was attack'd by 2 French Privateers of 22 and 24 Guns, but gave them so warm a Reception that they soon left her: In this Action she had 3 Men kill'd, and the Captain with 7 others wounded. This Day sail'd her Majesty's Ships the Southampton and Lizard for Torbay, to take under their Convoy the Topsham Ships, &c. bound for Wales.

Shields, March 23. Two Days ago came into this Port a great many Transport Ships having on board Land-Forces from Ostend. They came under Convoy of 10 or 12 Sail of Men of War, which are riding in our Road. We hear that Sir George Byng, with the Fleet, is in Leith-Road.

Yarmouth, March 24. This Day sail'd out of this Road to the Northward, about 150 Sail of light Colliers and Coasters without Convoy. There also pass'd through to the Southward about 30 Sail of laden Colliers and Coasters, as did likewise the Lynn Fleet with the Boneta.

Harwich, March 25. Yesterday came in the Woolwich from the Downes. This Day some Horses were put on board the Transport-Ships, and the rest will embark to Morrow. Just now the Dispatch Pacquet-boat arriv'd here from Holland, and landed an Express Yesterday at Alborough.

Deale, March 25. Her Majesty's Ships the Norwich, Tilbury, Sheerness, and Maidstone, sail'd this Morning to the Northward. The rest of the Queen's Ships mention'd in my formerr continue in the Downes.

Bristol, March 24. 'This Morning a very unlucky Accident happen'd in Kingroad. The Servant-Galley from Leghorn came safe to an Anchor, and in less than half an hour blew up by some Carelessness, and 15 or 16 of her Men were lost. The Captain, John Eves, was taken up alive, but died on board the Shoram Man of War soon after. Several of the Men who were saved, are very bad. This Night arriv'd the Hart-Galley, Andrew Ruddock, the Peterborough-Galley Samuel Jacol, and the Betty Captain Osborn, they all came from Gibraltar 4 Weeks past with several others bound for London and this Place.
